

Central Piedmont READS

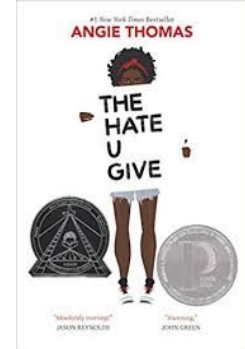

(CP Reads)

Please join us for CP Reads, our campus-wide community read in conjunction with our annual Sensoria festival.

This year we will be reading:

The Hate U Give* by Angie Thomas

CP Reads will be hosting book discussions on each of our six campuses and showing the film in April during the Sensoria festival. Faculty and staff will be able to register for these events in LearnerWeb to receive PD credits.

Campus Book Discussion Groups:

Cato Campus, Cato III-CT024 lower level auditorium: Tuesday, March 5, 11:00am–12:30pm

Central Campus, Library 302: Tuesday, March 5, 2:00p –3:30pm

Harper Campus, room 108 (auditorium): Wednesday, March 6, 11:00am–12:00pm

Harris Campus, room 1 (auditorium): Thursday, March 7, 11:00am–12:30pm

Levine Campus, room 3314: Thursday, March 7 12:30-1:30 PM

Merancas Campus, room 131 (auditorium): Tuesday, March 19, 12:30-2:00pm

The Hate U Give is the official selection for the Charlotte Mecklenburg Library Community Read, and we have partnered with them to bring Angie Thomas to Central Piedmont's Halton Theater on March 19, 2019. Readers will be invited to participate in conversations at all of our campuses and at local branches of the library.

Faculty, please consider supporting this educational event by awarding extra credit for your students' participation in CP Reads.

Any questions? Please contact the CP Reads coordinators:

Jaime Pollard-Smith at jaime.pollardsmith@cpcc.edu

Elizabeth West at elizabeth.west@cpcc.edu

PRESENTED BY Bank of America

ADDITIONAL SUPPORT CHARLOTTE MECKLENBURG LIBRARY FOUNDATION FOR THE CAROLINAS

LIBRARY cmlibrary.org/communityread

