

World War I: The Forgotten War

A series of free lectures and films about the War to End All Wars.

Presented by:

The Robinson-Spangler Carolina Room
The Charlotte Museum of History
The University of North Carolina at Charlotte

Dr. Steve Sabol
Department of History, UNC Charlotte

Over There: The United States Enters World War I

Thursday, September 21, 2017, 6-8 p.m.

The Charlotte Museum of History
3500 Shamrock Drive

Call 704-416-0150 to make reservations.

Great Britain and the Great War

Thursday, October 12, 2017, 6-8 p.m.

The Charlotte Museum of History
3500 Shamrock Drive

Call 704-416-0150 to make reservations.

Dr. Peter Thorsheim
Department of History, UNC Charlotte

Dr. Heather R. Perry
Department of History, UNC Charlotte

Mobilizing the Kitchen: Women, Food and the WWI Homefront

Thursday, November 9, 2017, 6-8 p.m.

The Charlotte Museum of History
3500 Shamrock Drive

Call 704-416-0150 to make reservations.

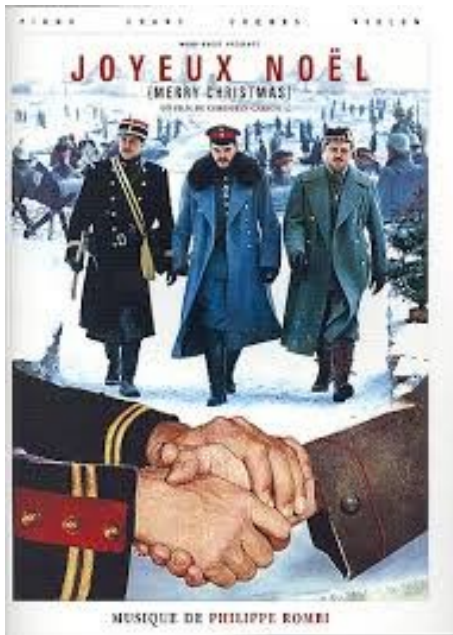

WHERE HISTORY HAS A HOME

World War I: The Forgotten War

There have been hundreds of movies capturing the drama and action of World War I. Take a break from holiday shopping and check out these two movies. Both are FREE and open to the public. In December, the popular 2005 movie, Joyeux Noel brings new meaning to the holiday as a time for peace on earth. Then in January, check out Wings, the first and only silent movie to win an Academy Award. It is a mixture of romance, drama as well as the introduction of aeronautic stunt flying in motion pictures by famed director, William A. Willman.

Joyeux Noel (Merry Christmas)

Saturday, December 2, 2017, 2-4 p.m.

On the battlefields of France in 1914, soldiers on opposite sides of “no man’s land” climb out of their trenches to hold a temporary truce and celebrate Christmas. Will the peace last?

Starring:

Benno Fürmann, Guillaume Canet, Daniel Brühl,
Diane Kruger, Gary Lewis, Alex Ferns

Francis Auditorium
Main Library
310 North Tryon Street

Call 704-416-0150 for reservations.

Wings* (Silent Movie)

Saturday, January 27, 2018, 2-4 p.m.

1929 Academy Award Winner for Best Picture

Starring:

Clara Bow, Buddy Rogers, Richard Arlen
Introducing: Gary Cooper

Ethan Uslan on piano

Francis Auditorium
Main Library
310 North Tryon Street

Call 704-416-0150 for reservations.